SUPERJAMES BARS

SuperJames Bars are 90 grams of delicious, healthy superfood—as big as a meal—in an adorable craft paper box. They were originally made for cyclists at The Jamestown Mercantile Cafe, at the top of a popular Boulder cycling route. In 2013, a flood caused damage to the canyon road, leaving ‘The Merc’ inaccessible during the canyon road reconstruction.

Superjames Bars

CLEAN FUEL FOR YOUR RIDE

Fans of SuperJames Bars asked that we bring the bars to coffee shops and stores where they could be more accessible during the rebuilding period. That’s when we found that SuperJames Bars are a popular treat for all walks of life—a great meal on the go for breakfast or an easy office lunch. They give lasting energy for hours. They’ve been flying on the shelves at Boulder County area shops. SuperJames Bars are made with clean, healthy, simple ingredients. Fruit, nuts and seeds combine with the peanutty base to create a delicious meal. Twice the size of most energy bars, they pack twice the punch!

GUAYAKI YERBA MATE

Like the seed of the Mate Tree, Guayakí Sustainable Rainforest Products started small on California's Central Coast in 1996 by two university buddies. Alex Pryor (from Argentina) first introduced Yerba Mate to David Karr (from California) while attending Cal Poly University in San Luis Obispo. Fast friends and ultimately 'soul brothers,' Alex and David set out to share Yerba Mate with the world, recognizing that people were in need of a nourishing source of energy and a healthy dose of optimism.
